Manager Gumpertz was in court yesterday morning with Arnold Daly and the other male members of the cast. Magistrate Whitman looked the actors over and noted that the roll of defendants was shy by the two women Miss Shaw and Miss Herne and by Senator Reynolds.

"We must have every one of the defendants in court before we can go on," said the Magistrate.

"Then will your honor continue the case?"—asked Grossman. "It is just before election and our office is very busy. I want to prove to your satisfaction that this is a moral production, that in book form it goes freely through the mails of Great Britain and the United States.

The Magistrate set the hearing for November 9 on the promise that Grossman would bring them all into court on that date. This was coupled with a promise that the play should not be produced again.

NEW WING AT ST. VINCENT'S. Dedicated Yesterday by Archbishop Farley How the Hospital Has Grown.

The new wing of St. Vincent's Hospital n Fleventh street was formally opened yesterday by Archbishop Farley with a brief address and a benediction. This wing is supplied with a full equipment to accommodate 100 new patients.

"St. Vincent's," said the Archbishop, is the greatest Catholic hospital in the United States. I congratulate the Sisters of Charity, who were the principal actors in this project. St. Vince at de Paul founded their order for the purpose of waiting on the sick in the hospitals.' Dr. F. S. Dennis, president of the medical board, said: "St. Vincent's Hospital was founded exactly fifty-six years ago to-day, in 1849.

exactly fifty-six years ago to-day, in 1849, by Sister Angela and four other sisters, and by Archbishop Hughes. In 1849 there were 19 patients; in 1904, 22,695. In 1849 no operations were performed; in 1904 1,000 were performed."

Among the donors of funds for rooms, wards and beds in the new wing are John D. Crimmins, Adrian Iselin and various members of his family; Dr. F. S. Dennis, Jeremiah Campion, Mrs. James Butler and Mrs. John W. Mackay.

CITY EXPENSES DO GROW About as Fast as Population, but Taxes

Comptroller Grout replied vesterday to statements which have been made that the annual expenses of the city government are increasing faster than the city's income and the population. Except for $4,000,000 added peremptorily by the Legislature to the salaries of teachers, the increase since 1900, which is otherwise $15,-000,000, is, Mr. Grout says, almost exactly in proportion with the increase of population. But the true test, he savs, is the increase in taxes, which, together with the revenues of the general fund and the surplus of the sinking fund, meet the yearly expenses. The total taxes levied in the year 1900 were $82.542,173.75, as against taxes for 1905 of $88,985,645.75, an increase in taxation in five years of less than $6,500,000. That increase represents a percentage of $82,500,000, the taxes of 1900, which is about one-half the percentage of the increase in population during the Marriage Certificates of Folks United Ten Years Ago Filed at Last.

UTICA, N. Y., Nov. 1.- The wedding certificates of more than half a dozen couples united in Buffalo nearly ten years ago are to be filed to-morrow for the first time. The Rev. Starr K. Smith, formerly of Buffalo, performed the ceremonies. A Utica grocer who levied on the preacher's desk discovered the certificates in it and has sent them to Buffalo.

Two years ago, after the preacher had given up his church, a suit was begun against him by the grocer for the amount of a bill. Judgment was rendered in favor of the plaintiff and all that was found that could be taken was the desk. While could be taken was the desk. While searching the desk the other day the grocer came across the marriage certificates that had never been filed.

The grocer in his letter to the Buffalo authorities said: "If the people were married secretly, it's time the secret leaked out, and if they weren't, it's time the certificates were filed, so they can really call themselves married."

LOST, 944 SHARES OF PENNA. Boston Pinkertons Warn Everybody Against

Buying Them. Nine hundred and forty-four shares of Pennsylvania Railroad stock, worth $68,912. according to yesterday's quotations, have been missing since September 25. The shares are represented by fifteen certificates, five of which are for 100 shares each and the others for numbers ranging down to two one-share certificates.

The loss became known yesterday when the Boston Pinkertons sent out a circular offering a reward for the return of the certificates. The Pinkerton office in this city would not tell how the shares were lost.

The most important and valuable book in the exhibition is a copy of Pliny's "Historia Naturalis." from John de Spira's press at Venice in 1469. It is a magnificent specimen of book making, even is illuminated by Girolamo di Cremona.

One is so "fed up," to quote the South African slang of an English writer, with anecdotes, portraits and souvenirs of Lady Hamilton that it is quite refreshing to hear something about Lady Nelson. She seems to have spent the long period of the war with Nelson's father, who writes of her. Lydia Ann Jocelyn, who, together with Nathan J. Cuppee, has written "Lords of the Soil," is a direct descendant of Capt. Lawrence of "Don't give up the ship" fame. From her great-grandmother, who was 15 years old at the time of the Revolution, she gained much information concerning Colonial times. Her great-great-grandfather on the maternal side was an officer in the English army, serving in the French and Indian war with Gen. Putnam. Being captured by the Indians, he was forced to run the gartlet and to him was awarded the "gantlet belt" which rendered the wearer immune from savage attacks. Here lity and family tradition thus unite in endowing the writer with both the spirit and the material for the kind of literary work in which she is engaged.

Just before Mr. Jerome K. Jerome's departure from England for his course of readings in America Mr. Pett Ridge and Mr. W. W. HARPER'S BOOK NEWS.

American Diplomacy

Its Spirit and Achievements.

This series of papers by Professor John Bassett Moore, Professor of International Law and Diplomacy at Columbia University, and the greatest living authority on the history of American diplomacy, has commanded wide attention both in this country and abroad. It places many facts before the public for the first time, and shows how the American policy of carrying on international dealings squarely and above board has made American diplomacy one of the great formative forces in modern history.

The Reconstruction of Religious Belief

An interesting and timely volume on the great subject of the contradictions between science and religion. The author, W. H. Mallock, takes a new point of view. He accepts all the new teachings of science, and then, adopting the scientific method, goes on to show how religion may still justify itself and solve the apparent contradictions that beset an ultimate solution.
